

FREE MRS. FORD
TO SAVE HER
FROM INSANITY

CINCINNATI, June 10.—Three indictments against Mrs. Jeanette Stewart Ford charging her with blackmailing Charles J. Warriner, convicted former local treasurer of the Big Four Railroad, with receiving stolen money, and with sending threatening letters, were nolleed by Judge Caldwell in the Common Pleas Court. This ends her connection with the sensational Warriner case.

A statement was presented to Judge Oswald by an assistant prosecutor, saying that Mrs. Ford is ruined in fortune and health and that further prosecution would put her in a madhouse.

Having and realizing that she was being hounded to death, Mrs. Ford has been a patient at a local hospital. After she escaped from that institution it required the co-operation of members of the police department and several of her personal friends, as well as her legal counsel to obtain her return.

The dismissal of all cases against Mrs. Ford marks the cleaning up of the War-

It was said Mrs. Ford will be committed to a private institution and that her two children, under orders from the court, will be taken from her and committed to the care of a prominent Cincinnati family who will adopt them.

SISTERS REUNITED BY NEWS ITEM

NORTH ARLINGTON, June 10.—Mrs. William H. Mason of North Arlington says that she and her sister, Mrs. John J. Jones, brought together by a newspaper item, are enjoying a reunion after thirty years apart. When children they were orphaned, and fledgling homes with relatives drifted apart. Both married and had families while the other remained single. A month ago a Western paper with the item, "Mrs. Jones," in it, came to Mrs. Mason's home. In it fell into the hands of Mrs. Mason.

FOUR ATTACK POLICEMAN

Policeman Dennis Downey of Somerville was attacked and beaten almost into insensibility with his own nightstick by four men whom he had accosted earlier today near the corner of Park street and Somerville avenue, Somerville.

Downey fought a desperate battle with his assailants, but the odds proved too much for him. One of the quartet wrenched his nightstick from his grasp and struck him over the head. The blow dazed him, and as he reeled another struck him in the

The four then kicked the policeman several times in the face and body while he was on the ground, but though bleeding profusely from the wounds about his head, Downey dragged himself to his feet and renewed the battle. The nerve of the policeman was too much for the rascals, and they made off down Somersville avenue. Downey was too weak to pursue them far, but his cries for help brought assistance. The men escaped.
